Battery use & safety

DON'Ts
- Don’t let the product come into contact with liquids. Liquids can get into the product’s circuits, leading to corrosion.
- Don’t place your product near a heat source. High temperatures can cause the battery to swell, leak or malfunction.
- Don’t dry a wet or damp product with an appliance or heat source, such as a hair dryer or microwave oven.

DOs
- Do avoid leaving your product in your car in high temperatures.
- Do avoid dropping the product. Dropping your product, especially on a hard surface, can potentially cause damage.
- Do contact your retailer or Motorola if your product has been damaged by dropping, liquids or high temperatures.

Warning: Never dispose of battery powered products in a fire because they may explode.

Battery charging

Notes for charging your product's battery:
- During charging, keep your battery and charger near room temperature for efficient battery charging.
- New batteries are not fully charged.
- New batteries or batteries stored for a long time may take more time to charge.
- Motorola batteries and charging systems have circuitry that protects the battery from damage from overcharging.

Driving precautions

Responsible and safe driving is your primary responsibility when behind the wheel of a vehicle. Using a mobile device or accessory while driving may cause distraction and may be prohibited or restricted in certain areas. Always obey the laws and regulations on the use of these products.

While driving, NEVER:
- Type or read messages.
- Enter or review written data.
- Surf the web.
- Input navigation information.
- Perform any other functions that divert your attention from driving.

While driving, ALWAYS:
- Keep your eyes on the road.
- Enter destination information into a navigation device before driving.

Caution about high volume usage

Warning: Exposure to loud noise from any source for extended periods of time may affect your hearing. The louder the volume sound level, the less time is required before your hearing could be affected. To protect your hearing:
- Limit the amount of time you use headsets or headphones at high volume.
- Avoid turning up the volume to block out noisy surroundings.
- Turn the volume down if you can’t hear people speaking near you.

If you experience hearing discomfort, including the sensation of pressure or fullness in your ears, ringing in your ears or muffled speech, you should stop listening to the device through your headset or headphones and get your hearing checked.

For more information about hearing, see our website at direct.motorola.com/hellomoto/nss/AcousticSafety.asp (in English only).

Repetitive motion

When you repetitively perform actions such as pressing keys or entering finger-written characters, you may experience occasional discomfort in your hands, arms, shoulders, neck or other parts of your body. If you continue to have discomfort during or after such use, stop use and see a doctor.

Small children

Keep your mobile device and its accessories away from small children. These products are not toys and may be hazardous to small children. For example:
• A choking hazard may exist for small, detachable parts.
• Improper use could result in loud sounds, possibly causing hearing injury.
• Improperly handled batteries could overheat and cause a burn.

Glass parts
Some parts of your mobile device may be made of glass. This glass could break if the product is dropped on a hard surface or receives a substantial impact. If glass breaks, do not touch or attempt to remove. Stop using your mobile device until the glass is replaced by a qualified service centre.

Operational warnings
Obey all posted signs when using mobile devices in public areas.

Potentially explosive atmospheres
Areas with potentially explosive atmospheres are often, but not always, posted and can include fuelling areas, such as below decks on boats, fuel or chemical transfer or storage facilities or areas where the air contains chemicals or particles, such as grain dust or metal powders. When you are in such an area, turn off your mobile device and do not remove, install or charge batteries. In such areas, sparks can occur and cause an explosion or fire.

Radio frequency (RF) energy
Exposure to RF energy
Your mobile device contains a transmitter and receiver. When it is on, it receives and transmits RF energy. When you communicate with your mobile device, the system handling your network access controls the power level at which your mobile device transmits. Your mobile device is designed to comply with local regulatory requirements in your country concerning exposure of human beings to RF energy.

RF energy operational precautions
For optimal mobile device performance, and to be sure that human exposure to RF energy does not exceed the guidelines set forth in the relevant standards, always follow these instructions and precautions:

• If you use the mobile device placed on your body (such as on your lap), always place the mobile device in a Motorola-supplied or approved case. If you do not use a body-worn accessory supplied or approved by Motorola, keep the mobile device and its antenna at least 2.5 centimetres (1 inch) from your body when transmitting.

• Using accessories not supplied or approved by Motorola may cause your mobile device to exceed RF energy exposure guidelines. For a list of Motorola-supplied or approved accessories, visit our website at: www.motorola.com.

RF energy interference/compatibility
Nearly every electronic device is subject to RF energy interference from external sources if inadequately shielded, designed or otherwise configured for RF energy compatibility. In some circumstances, your mobile device may cause interference with other devices. Follow instructions to avoid interference problems
Turn off your mobile device in any location where posted notices instruct you to do so. In an aircraft, turn off your mobile device whenever instructed to do so by airline staff. If your mobile device offers an aeroplane mode or similar feature, consult airline staff about using it in-flight.

Implantable medical devices
If you have an implantable medical device, such as a pacemaker or defibrillator, consult your doctor before using this mobile device. Persons with implantable medical devices should observe the following precautions:

• ALWAYS keep the mobile device more than 20 centimetres (8 inches) from the implantable medical device when the mobile device is turned ON.
• DO NOT carry the mobile device in the breast pocket.
• Use the ear opposite the implantable medical device to minimise the potential for interference.
• Turn OFF the mobile device immediately if you have any reason to suspect that interference is taking place.
Read and follow the directions from the manufacturer of your implantable medical device. If you have any questions about using your mobile device with your implantable medical device, consult your health care provider.

Specific absorption rate (ICNIRP)

YOUR MOBILE DEVICE MEETS INTERNATIONAL GUIDELINES FOR EXPOSURE TO RADIO WAVES.

Your mobile device is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed not to exceed the limits for exposure to radio waves (radio frequency electromagnetic fields) recommended by international guidelines. The guidelines were developed by an independent scientific organisation (ICNIRP) and include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health.

The radio wave exposure guidelines use a unit of measurement known as the Specific absorption rate, or SAR. The SAR limit for mobile devices is 2 W/kg.

Tests for SAR are conducted using standard operating positions with the device transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. The highest SAR value under the ICNIRP guidelines for your device model is: 1.86 W/kg (MOTOROLA XOOM UMTS MZ601).

During use, the actual SAR values for your device are usually well below the values stated. This is because, for purposes of system efficiency and to minimise interference on the network, the operating power of your mobile device is automatically decreased when full power is not needed for the wireless connection. The lower the power output of the device, the lower its SAR value.

The World Health Organisation has stated that present scientific information does not indicate the need for any special precautions for the use of mobile devices. They recommend that if you are interested in further reducing your exposure then you can easily do so by limiting your usage. Additional information can be found at www.who.int/emf (World Health Organisation).

Information from the World Health Organisation

"A large number of studies have been performed over the last two decades to assess whether mobile phones pose a potential health risk. To date, no adverse health effects have been established for mobile phone use".

FCC notice to users

The following statement applies to all products that have received FCC approval.

Applicable products bear the FCC logo and/or an FCC ID in the format FCC ID:xxxxxxxx on the product label.

Motorola has not approved any changes or modifications to this device by the user. Any changes or modifications could void the user’s authority to operate the equipment. See 47 CFR Sec. 15.21.

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation. See 47 CFR Sec. 15.19(3).

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and the receiver.
- Connect the equipment to an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

Location services (GPS & AGPS)
The following information is applicable to Motorola mobile devices that provide location-based (GPS and/or AGPS) functionality.

Your mobile device may use Global Positioning System (GPS) signals for location-based applications. GPS uses satellites controlled by the U.S. government that are subject to changes implemented in accordance with the Department of Defense policy and the Federal Radio Navigation Plan. These changes may affect the performance of location technology on your mobile device.

Your mobile device may also use Assisted Global Positioning System (AGPS), which obtains information from the mobile network to improve GPS performance. AGPS uses your wireless service provider’s network and therefore airtime, data charges and/or additional charges may apply in accordance with your service plan. Contact your wireless service provider for details.

Your location
Location-based information includes information that can be used to determine the approximate location of a mobile device. Mobile devices that are connected to a wireless network transmit location-based information. Devices enabled with GPS or AGPS technology also transmit location-based information. Additionally, if you use applications that require location-based information (e.g. driving directions), such applications transmit location-based information. This location-based information may be shared with third parties, including your wireless service provider, applications providers, Motorola and other third parties providing services.

Navigation
The following information is applicable to Motorola mobile devices that provide navigation features.

When using navigation features, note that mapping information, directions and other navigational data may contain inaccurate or incomplete data. In some countries, complete navigational instructions may not be available. Therefore, you should visually confirm that the navigational instructions are consistent with what you see. All drivers should pay attention to road conditions, closures, traffic and all other factors that may impact driving. Always obey posted road signs.

Smart practices while driving
Check the laws and regulations on the use of mobile devices and their accessories in the areas where you drive. Always obey them. The use of these devices may be prohibited or restricted in certain areas—for example, hands-free use only may be required. Go to www.motorola.com/callsmart (in English only) for more information.

Note: Voice call features may not be available on all products. Your mobile device lets you communicate by voice and data—almost anywhere, anytime, wherever connection is available and safe conditions allow. When driving a car, driving is your first responsibility. If you choose to use your mobile device while driving, remember the following tips:

- Get to know your Motorola mobile device and its features such as voice commands and “read out loud” features. If available, these features help you to use your device without taking your attention off the road.
- When available, use a hands-free device. If possible, add an additional layer of convenience to your mobile device with one of the many Motorola original hands-free accessories available today.
- Position your mobile device within easy reach. Be able to access your mobile device without removing your eyes from the road. If you receive a call at an inconvenient time, if possible, let your voicemail answer it for you.
- Let the person you are speaking to know you are driving; if necessary, suspend the call in heavy traffic or hazardous weather conditions. Rain, sleet, snow, ice and even heavy traffic can be hazardous.
- Do not take notes or look up phone numbers while driving. Jotting down a “to do” list or going through your address book takes attention away from your primary responsibility—driving safely.
- Assess the traffic. If possible, place calls when your car is not moving or before pulling into traffic. If you must make a call while moving, use contacts or voice commands, check the road and your mirrors, then continue.
- Do not engage in stressful or emotional conversations that may be distracting. Make people you are talking to aware you are driving and suspend conversations that can divert your attention away from the road.

Privacy & data security
Motorola understands that privacy and data security are important to everyone. Given that some features of your mobile device may affect your privacy or data security, please follow these recommendations to enhance protection of your information:

- Monitor access—Keep your mobile device with you and do not leave it where others may have unmonitored access. Lock your device’s keypad where this feature is available.

- Make people you are talking to aware you are driving and suspend conversations that can divert your attention away from the road.

- Do not engage in stressful or emotional conversations that may be distracting.
Keep software up to date — If Motorola or a software/application vendor releases a patch or software fix for your mobile device that updates the device’s security, install it as soon as possible.

Secure personal information — Your mobile device can store personal information in various locations including your SIM card, memory card and internal memory. Make sure you remove or clear all personal information before you recycle, return or give away your device. You can also back up your personal data to transfer to a new device. Note: For information on how to back up or wipe data from your mobile device, go to www.motorola.com/support Online accounts — Some mobile devices provide a Motorola online account (such as MOTOBLUR). Go to your account for information on how to manage the account and how to use security features such as remote wipe and device location (where available).

Applications — Install third party applications from trusted sources only. Applications can have access to private information such as call data, location details and network resources.

Location-based information — Location-based information includes information that can be used to determine the approximate location of a mobile device. Products that are connected to a wireless network transmit location-based information. Devices enabled with GPS or AGPS technology also transmit location-based information. Additionally, if you use applications that require location-based information (e.g. driving directions), such applications transmit location-based information. This location-based information may be shared with third parties, including your wireless service provider, applications providers, Motorola and other third parties providing services.

Other information your device may transmit — Your device may also transmit testing and other diagnostic (including location-based) information, and other non-personal information to Motorola or other third-party servers. This information is used to help improve products and services offered by Motorola.

If you have further questions regarding how the use of your mobile device may impact your privacy or data security, please contact Motorola at privacy@motorola.com, or contact your service provider.

Use & care

To care for your Motorola phone, please observe the following:

liquids
Don’t expose your mobile device to water, rain, extreme humidity, sweat or other liquids. If it does get wet, don’t try to accelerate drying with the use of an oven or dryer, as this may damage the phone.

extreme heat or cold
Don’t use, recharge or store your mobile device in temperatures below 0°C (32°F) or above 35°C (95°F).

OR REGULATIONS IN THEIR COUNTRY OF PURCHASE OR, IF DIFFERENT, CONVEYED BY SUCH CONSUMER PROTECTION LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

Who is covered?
This Limited Warranty extends only to the first consumer purchaser of the Product, and is not transferable.

What does this Limited Warranty cover?
Motorola’s Warranty obligations are limited to the terms and conditions set forth herein and are only available in the country where the Product was purchased. Subject to the exclusions contained below, Motorola warrants this tablet computer (“Product”) against defects in materials and workmanship, under normal consumer use, for a period of ONE (1) YEAR from the date of retail purchase by the original end-user purchaser (“Warranty period”).
Products repaired or replaced under this Limited Warranty are covered for the balance of the original Warranty period, or 90 days from the date of service, whichever is longer. Any upgrade to the original Product will be covered only for the duration of the Warranty period.
This Limited Warranty applies only to new Products which are a) manufactured by or for Motorola as identified by the “Motorola” trademark, trade name or logo legally affixed to them; b) purchased by consumers from an authorised reseller or distributor of Motorola Products; and c) accompanied by this written Limited Warranty.

What will Motorola do?
If a covered defect or damage arises and a valid Warranty claim is received within the applicable Warranty period, Motorola, at its sole option, unless otherwise required by applicable law, will either (1) repair, at no charge, the defect or damage using new, used or reconditioned/refurbished functionally equivalent replacement parts, or (2) exchange the Product with a replacement Product that is new or which has been reconditioned/refurbished or otherwise remanufactured from new or used parts and is functionally equivalent to the original Product; or (3) refund the purchase price of any Products covered by the terms and conditions of this Limited Warranty.
Products, parts and supporting documentation provided to Motorola as part of the Warranty process, shall become the property of Motorola, and may not be returned. When a replacement or refund is given, the Product for which the replacement or refund is provided must be returned to Motorola and shall become the property of Motorola.

The foregoing shall include but not be limited to (i) serial numbers, date tags or other manufacturer coding that has been removed, altered or obliterated; (ii) mismatched or duplicated serial numbers; or (iii) broken seals or other evidence of tampering.
